Blessings for Good Health

Good health and longevity are the most highly esteemed values of the five-fold happinesses. The white crane is an ancient symbol for longevity because of its exceptionally long life span. Likewise the pine tree, known for its endurance and hardiness through the bitterest winters. Together they create the auspicious combination hè shǒu sōng lǐng, meaning "life as long as that of the crane and the pine."

Display this in your home or office to attract the auspicious combination for good health and longevity.
